Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 36-37, 39, 43, 45-46, 48 and 49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Schaefer '618.

Schaefer discloses in figures 1-8 a medical treatment article comprising at least one fluid control film component 11, having a major surface (the lower surface of 11), the major surface comprises a plurality of microreplicated channels (15 and 13) extending along the surface (fig. 1 shows more than one channel 15 extending along the surface of the major surface) that permit the transport of fluid between a medical site and a patient, a remote area that includes a fluid reservoir 10, the article is a wound dressing, the channel having a V-shape (fig. 4), the channel includes a thermoplastic material that is vinyl chloride, a pressure sensitive adhesive material 26, a backing layer that includes the adhesive material and a wound dressing 30.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 41-42, 44 and 50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schaefer.

Schaefer discloses in figures 1-8 a medical treatment article, substantially as claimed. However, Schafer doesn't disclose that the channels having the same angle, how deep the channels are or the film being translucent. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time that the invention was made that the channels disclosed by Schaefer could be fabricated with an angle between 10 to 120 degrees (which the channels appear to be), the channel could be formed of about 5 to about 3000 microns deep and the film could be made of a translucent material. The angle and the depth of the channels recited in the claims are within the scope of Schaefer. The translucent material could be poly vinyl chloride because it is a translucent material that prevents glare. The channel being a silicone is a choice of materials.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 40 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 51-54 and 56-60 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed May 5, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant that Schaefer doesn't disclose a film having a major surface with microreplicated channels extending along the major surface. However, Schaefer discloses a film 11, having a major surface that microreplicated channels 15 extend along the major surface. Also the channels 13 extend along the major surface of film 11. The claim doesn't require that the channels are made into the film. The claims only require that the channels extend along the major surface. The openings 15 pass through the film and were interpreted as channels because fluid passes therethrough.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
